Games Industry Veteran Natasha Skult Joins IGDA-F Board of Directors LOS ANGELES - August 29, 2023 - The International Game Developers Association Foundation (IGDA-F) welcomes Natasha Skult to its board of directors. Skult·s invaluable career experience helps bolster the IGDA-F·s global mission of improving industry diversity, equity, and inclusion. Highly skilled and accomplished with a background in traditional art, academic research and design, Skult·s work across various senior roles in the games industry have forged her into an authority in the field. Skult·s current roles include active membership in the Finnish and international games industry communities as a founder and Chairperson of W Love Games and the Chair-Emeritus of IGDA . She·s also an award-winning entrepreneur, with a range of accolades including her position as CEO and Creative Director of MiTale Ltd , a Finnish studio focused on mixed reality projects with narrative roots As an educator, Skult extends her knowledge and expertise to her students through game design and game art production courses at the University of Turku . Through her tenure, she engages in active academic research of interactive storytelling with quantum computing. Skult empowers those she mentors and works with by expressing that individuals and teams can create something truly meaningful, impacting the world around them. Teaching since 2013, Skult also continues to further her own education as a doctoral candidate. Constantly pushing for equality, diversity, and freedom of speech in the gaming industry, Skult joined the International Game Developers Association of Finland, the IGDA·s Game Art Special Interest Group, and later became chair for her local chapter. Alongside the IGDA, she continues to advocate for gender equality in the industry through her involvement in Women in Games of Finland. ·Natasha·s contributions and experiences in the global games industry make her a proud addition to the IGDA-F Board of Directors,· said Ed Fries, Interim Chair of the IGDA-F Board of Directors. ·I am confident she will further our initiatives to improve diversity and inclusivity conditions for game developers around the world.· To learn more about the IGDA Foundation, visit the official website at http://igdafoundation.org .
