The more tactical tribes will let their Carcharodontosaurus tear through the mid-sized creatures in their enemy's ranks, thereby building up its bloodrage to take on the largest threats. Details on the community-chosen dino Carcharodontosaurus were announced today during the stream. It is a fearsome carnivore that gets more dangerous once it tastes blood. Carcharodontosaurus can sweep aside attackers with its tail, but it's the other end you'll really want to avoid. With teeth like steak knives, it sets in jaws strong enough to shred most prey. This vicious predator is coming to ARK later this year. PAX West attendees can come by Booth #325 (4th Floor) to try out Scorched Earth running on the Switch for the first time ever and meet a real-life-sized version of HLN-A! She is complete with an incredible holographic display-face and interacts directly with ARK survivors - so whatever burning questions you have just ask. Take a picture with her and she·ll tell you a joke!
